

CN Morning Rundown: Watch COGIC Installation, Consecration of Bishops

Following are the top stories featured yesterday on :

WATCH: COGIC Inaugural Installation, Consecration Service of J. Drew Sheard

The Church of God in Christ will host the installation service of Rev. Drew Sheard June 22 and the consecration service for the jurisdictional and auxiliary bishop designates June 23, 2021. The events will be livestreamed via the denomination's website and the Facebook page.

The former Detroit-based math teacher was elected as the new presiding bishop over the largest Pentecostal denomination in the country in March. This came on the heels of former Presiding Bishop Charles Edward Blake Sr.'s October 2020 announcement that he would not seek reelection.

Sheard is married to Mrs. Karen Clark-Sheard, a member of the legendary Grammy Award-winning group The Clark Sisters.

This Sickening Stain on American Culture Could Soon Become Indelible

The current push for state-sanctioned racism in public education is passed off under the idealistic and unrealistic name of Critical Race Theory. This shouldn't come as too much of a surprise for the simple reason that secularism was inaugurated as America's official religion by eight U.S. Supreme Court Justices in the mid-20th century. And with that, they tore down the American Founding Fathers' Christian bulwark of liberty and autonomy that had been responsible for 350 remarkable years of American history.

For now, America's meteoric rise is a thing of the past. In Matthew 11:19c, Jesus observed that "wisdom is justified by her children," just as a tree is justified by its fruits. Whereas true wisdom shows itself in its providential and favorable effects, secularism is recognized by the dark stain it leaves behind in the culture and daily life.

This stain becomes darker and darker with the sexualization of America's youth, the mindless vacuity of public schooling and the immoral grooming of junior high 13- and 14-year-old girls being taught the many actions of physical sex.

A Sobering Moment Amid June's Endless Flood of LGBTQ Pride

It's all but impossible to miss. LGBTQ pride is being pushed on us from every angle and on an endless array of websites.

The Rotten Tomatoes movie review site is celebrating the "200 Best LGBTQ+ Movies of All Time." (Yes, the best 200. I can remember when the first gay kiss on TV caused a massive uproar.)

Amazon points to a constant stream of gay-themed programming along with gay-themed publications. As an Amazon website announced, "Amazon enters June bursting 'with Pride.'" {eo}

Follow breaking news like this and more in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.

✖ For more information on how you can fight back against cancel culture, make sure to get a copy of what Charisma founder and CEO Stephen Strang says is his most important book yet. God and Cancel Culture releases Sept. 7, the day after Labor Day, wherever fine books are sold. Pre-order it at or on Amazon.