Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

What Must Happen for the American Eagle to Soar Once Again

In 1776, the American eagle took flight and soared on the two wings of faith and reason. Now, 246 years later, the American eagle seems to be plummeting to her death, her two wings frayed and torn by a woke generation that is hostile to both faith and reason.

Reason may also be referred to as "common sense."

In the European Enlightenment (1685-1815), Christian faith was rejected and, in its place, "reason" was exalted as the vehicle for discovering truth. However, because Christianity is a reasonable faith, based on verifiable historical events, the practical worldview of the person of the Enlightenment was often quite compatible with that of the person of faith. Satanically inspired, self-proclaimed atheists are working feverishly toward the establishment of a one-world government—a technocratic take-over of all nations through globalist organizations like the World Health Organization (WHO) and the World Economic Forum (WEF).

It is common knowledge that they intend to implement "the Great Reset" by 2030—which would transition the world into a digital money system capable of tracking and controlling every human being. It is also evident to many knowledgeable persons, that the COVID crisis was engineered and radicalized to help push this agenda forward.

If this globalist agenda succeeds, it will serve not only to marginalize some of the fundamental principles true Christians uphold but criminalize them—worldwide. So, we must not be oblivious to this threat.
