

CN Morning Rundown: Woman Brought Back to Life, But Not Before She Sees Jesus Face to Face

Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

Woman Brought Back to Life, But Not Before She Sees Jesus Face to Face

Tina was unresponsive.

Brian recalls seeing his wife's body on the ground, "I've never seen anybody with their eyes rolled back and—and literally starting to turn purple."

Jeff Logas, their neighbor who had stopped over for a quick visit, tried finding a pulse and then began CPR.

Larry Tomczak's Week in Review: Biden's Big Trouble: Supporters Begin to Bail—and Quick

"The Emperor Has No Clothes" is a short story from the 1300s depicting a man in denial whose assistants were convincing him contrary to reality! Acts 12 describes another emperor putting on his royal robes, living a lie, then facing the judgment of God.

When even NBC leftist-leaning anchor Chuck Todd paints a picture of the man occupying the Oval Office as sinking, incompetent, ineffective and leading us in a bad direction, the findings are grim for Biden as he continues giving glowing reports how America is prospering.

The public grades his performance an "F." Watch this compelling and instructive video reviewing 15 areas where Biden has failed miserably, affecting all our lives, our families and our future. Is it really this serious? Watch the video and see.

It's Not Over Until It's Over: A Lesson in Inspiration and Determination from Tennis Great Rafael Nadal

Is your back against the wall? Are the odds stacked against you? Does common sense tell you it's time to throw in the towel?

Well, if you're convinced that you're doing right, especially as a follower of Jesus, then now is not the time to cave in or quit. In fact, the turnaround could be near. A lesson from the world of sports gives us some fresh inspiration.

Rafael Nadal is considered to be one of the best—if not the best—tennis players in history. Until this weekend, he was tied with 20 Grand Slam titles with his rivals and colleagues, Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic. {eoa}

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.