

CNN Commentator Fired for Demanding Israel's Annihilation

CNN Commentator Marc Lamont Hill addressed the United Nations during the annual International Day of Solidarity with the Palestinian People, calling to “free Palestine from the River to the Sea,” to a chorus of applause.

His statement carried the same meaning as the Palestinian Hamas terror organization's goal to eradicate the Jewish state.

His hate speech was applauded at the United Nations. However, the next day, he was fired from his position.

“Marc Lamont Hill is no longer under contract with CNN,” a CNN spokesperson said in a statement to several news outlets.

Watch and hear his outrageous remarks and blatant lies about the state of Israel!

This article originally appeared at .