

Countdown to Jerusalem Film

First came the book, then the movie. Adapted from author John Hagee's best-selling Jerusalem Countdown is a film of the same title scheduled for release this summer. It stars David A.R. White, Lee Majors, Stacy Keach and Randy Travis and highlights the reality of an inevitable conflict between Israel and Islam.

"The rapture scene in this film is amazing," says Scott Reed, vice president of distribution for Five and Two Pictures. "They really put a lot of work into this."