

Covenant Sign: Double Rainbow Spans Sky Over Washington Monument

God used the cold fronts sweeping across the nation as a opportunity to remind us of His promises, if a viral photo is any indication.

Dozens snapped photos of a double rainbow across the Washington, D.C., skyline, including one over the Washington monument.

“A cold front swept through the Nation’s Capital Monday evening. With a band of light rain accompanying the front and at least some breaks in the clouds, folks were treated to the spectacular double rainbow,” senior meteorologist Jonathan Erdman said.

Click here to see the photos.