

Did President Obama Just Make a Deal With the Devil?

We've long known Iran wants to wipe Israel off the map. Israel is known among radical Islamists as the Great Satan—and America as the little Satan.

It's little surprise, then, that while President Obama was trying to negotiate with the Iranian government, the nation's supreme religious leader released a book about how to destroy Israel.

"In the book, the Ayatollah says that destroying Israel is not based on anti-Semitism, but on 'well-established Islamic principles,'" says evangelist Franklin Graham. "He also refers to the United States as the 'American Great Satan.'"

Apparently, America has surpassed Israel in Ayatollah ali Khamenei's satanic assessment. So if Iran is set on destroying Israel, what does that mean for America? Selah.

And it's not just America and Israel that have to worry. The Ayatollah revealed Iran's broader jihadi goals.

"This revealing book also talks about the various territories that the Muslim world has 'lost' and should reclaim—Russia, China and India to name a few," Graham says. "And our president just made a deal legitimizing this country's nuclear program? They're not trying to hide their intentions and they make no secret about what they think of America. Mr. President, this book is a must-read for you."
