

Divided On Abortion

“The state of California is on the verge of financial collapse. The last thing we need is to make an unnecessary expenditure to promote the gay lifestyle in California’s schools.”

A new report claims Americans are deeply conflicted on the abortion issue, with a majority calling themselves both pro-choice and pro-life.

–Benjamin Lopez, legislative advocate for Traditional Values Coalition, speaking about California Senate Bill 48, or the FAIR Act, which would force California schools to use textbooks and instructional materials that include homosexual, bisexual and transgender teachings.