

Divine Judgement? Watch the Humiliating Moment Tim Walz Gets the ‘Tower of Babel’ Treatment

The White House hilariously trolled disgraced Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz after he delivered a botched TV address urging Minnesotans to protest Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents who are merely doing their jobs.

In the farcically glitchy, live broadcast Wednesday, Walz’s jumbled audio spoke over itself, making his statements sound more incoherent than usual.

The White House reacted by lampooning Walz and calling him a “loser” and a “buffoon.”

Walz’ glitch-riddled broadcast was lampooned on social media.

Podcaster Benny Johnson said the botched livestream mirrored his disastrous tenure.

“Tim Walz tried to launch a livestream attacking ICE agents, only for it to collapse under constant audio failures,” Johnson wrote on X.

“A complete disaster. Perfectly mirroring his time in office.”

"BRUTAL FAILURE for Tim Walz's high-stakes 'live address' about ICE in Minnesota," conservative commentator Eric Daugherty wrote.

"You can't even hear what he's saying, there are 2 voices saying different things! RESIGN, TIM! You are not only criminally complicit but GROSSLY INCOMPETENT!"

Even if the broadcast had not been plagued by technical failures, Walz's message was warped and incongruous.

It is farcically ironic for an elected official to urge Americans to prioritize the welfare of foreign invaders by protesting and tattling on ICE officers who are enforcing U.S. laws.

Walz's anti-American exhortation is all the more bizarre in light of the numerous, multi-billion-dollar scams perpetrated by Somali "refugees" in Minnesota during his failed tenure.

On Tuesday, President Donald Trump torched the governor for letting his state become a crime-infested cesspool for Somali criminals who allegedly steal billions in tax dollars and erode Minnesota's quality of life.

"Moronic Tim Walz has allowed Minnesota to become overrun by Somali fraudsters who steal from American Taxpayers, and take advantage of our generosity," Trump wrote on Truth Social."

"Tim is completely incompetent, which is why he lost big time last year, and bowing out of Re-Election is the only good decision he has ever made."
