

Donald Trump Exposes 9/11 World Trade Center Terrorists

Republican candidate Donald Trump leveled the blame for knocking down the World Trade Center on Saudi Arabia, according to new footage.

“Who blew up the World Trade Center? It wasn’t the Iraqis, it was Saudi – take a look at Saudi Arabia, open the documents,” Trump says.

According to InfoWars, Trump was referring to the 28 pages of the original Joint Congressional Inquiry into 9/11, which remain classified and withheld from the public on grounds of “national security.”

Trump also made mention of potential World War III, which falls in line with the predictions of The Economic Collapse Blog’s Michael Snyder.

Saudi Arabia this week launched the “largest war game in the country’s history.”

According to PBS, the drills involve 20 mostly Arab and African countries. The Saudis are already fighting Shiite rebels in Yemen, and they have offered to help fight the Islamic State group in Syria.

But Trump says he believes the Saudis are responsible for terrorism against the United States.
