

Egyptian Youth Pray in Church Muslims Attacked Amid Growing Violence

Coptic Christian youth pray at St. George in Sohag, Egypt, after the church was attacked by Morsi supporters. ()

Numerous Christian churches across Egypt were attacked on Wednesday by mobs angered by the military's armed crackdown on protesters in Cairo. The official death toll has passed 500; a state of emergency and curfew are in effect.