

Evangelicals in Mexico Pray Ahead of Pope's Visit

(Reuters/Edgard Garrido)

Christians pray in evangelical Light of the World Church before the arrival of Pope Benedict XVI in Leon on Thursday. The Pope will arrive on Friday for a three-day visit to the Mexican state of Guanajuato. The biggest crowd in the city Thursday night looked to be thousands of young people a convention of evangelical Protestant missionaries near the highway exit leading to Bicentennial Park, where Benedict will deliver Mass on Sunday. Benedict will leave for Cuba on Monday.