

Faith-Based Streaming Platform Announces New Short-Form Bible Content

In a bold strategic move, to meet the demands of the Christian community, announced today the launch of a new short-form programming category: Bible Stories. Consumers can watch free for 30 days.

Bible Stories is a collection of video shorts delivering scriptural principles and their application to daily life, helping people discover God's vision for life. These videos are presented and produced by leaders in the Bible engagement community: "Honest Theology with Hugh Osgood," "The Lumo Project," "The Bible Project," "Trust in God" and "A Calling from Jerusalem," with more series coming in the near future.

"LUMO is a visual translation of the four Gospels that is redefining the standard of biblical media and allowing people to engage with Scripture in a brand-new way," said Tessie Devore, president of the Lumo Project. "I am thrilled and excited to be able to launch LUMO on this brand-new and advanced multimedia platform, ."

has created a one-stop best in class multimedia platform where the best in tvChaz allows you to watch global Christian events, inspiring messages, live TV Channels and amazing Bible stories, online and on demand.

Faith-Based Streaming

"The Bible Project is designed to make the Bible accessible. We create videos that explore the Bible's unified story by focusing on its overarching themes and each book's literary design," said Jon Collins, co-founder of The Bible Project. "Ultimately, we want to change how people read and use the Bible, and to that end we are excited to join .”

“People have very little time in their day. Bible Shorts is a way for us to deliver on our vision to allow easy and convenient access to Bible,” said Ossie Mills, president and CEO of tvChaz. “I am grateful for so many programming partners who have stepped forward to provide first-rate content.”

“We are honored to have our devotionals on ” said David Cerullo, chairman & CEO of Inspiration Ministries. “‘Trust in God’ is a short nugget of hope delivered with a scriptural foundation and meant to help people with everyday living.”

includes exclusive Christian conferences from around the world, the most inspiring messages from the best motivational speakers, popular live TV channels and selective short form content such as Bible Stories. WATCH FREE FOR 30 DAYS.