

France Vows Perpetual Strikes on ISIS

France and its allies are prepared to strike against Islamic State militants “again and again”, President Francois Hollande said on Monday.

“ISIS is provoking us in the worst possible way,” Hollande said in the Indian capital after meeting Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi, using the widely used acronym for Islamic State militants, who control parts of Syria and Iraq. {eo}

© 2016 Thomson Reuters. All rights reserved.