

Franklin Graham Issues 6 Urgent Prayer Requests

After the last presidential debate, evangelist Franklin Graham is crying out to God and asking you to do the same.

In a Facebook post, Graham asked for Americans to pray very specifically about six things.

“I pray God will open Americans’ eyes to the threats that are looming before us. Our unsecured border to the south. China’s military buildup in the South China sea. The redrawing of Europe’s borders and Europe now flooded with millions of refugees. ISIS now fully operational in at least 18 countries and growing. Russia’s engagement in Syria where they now have a massive military presence. We need China and Russia as allies not adversaries,” Graham writes.

He continued: “America is in a far more dangerous and vulnerable position than we were 8 years ago. And the most dangerous and vulnerable place to be is away from God who has blessed this nation more than any other on earth. The many problems we face cannot be solved by man alone, but we must have Divine help to find peaceful and long-lasting solutions.”

Graham says he is holding to Psalm 33:12 during this time: “Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, the people whom He has chosen as His inheritance.”

Amen!
