

Global Christian Decline: New Data Exposes Alarming Trend Worldwide

A newly released map shows a decline in the number of nations where Christians are in the majority.

While most countries still boast Christian majorities, there was a noteworthy decline from 2010 to 2020, according to data just published by the Pew Research Center, which found the U.K., France, Uruguay, and Australia no longer qualify as majority Christian countries.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

As of 2020, Christians remained the majority in 120 of 201 nations and territories analyzed, a decline from 124 in 2010. Statistically, that means Christian-majority countries accounted for 60% of all countries surveyed as opposed to 62% just 10 years earlier.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Over a decade, the Christian-identified populations in the U.K., France, Uruguay, and Australia dipped below 50%, with the percentage of those identifying as religiously unaffiliated ticking upward.

To order Jonathan Cahn's new book, The Avatar, visit .

Notably, this shift makes Uruguay the first country in the Americas to no longer boast a Christian majority. Fifty-two percent of its population is now religiously unaffiliated and only 44% is Christian. In the U.K., France, and Australia, no one religious group holds a clear majority.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

To read the full story, visit our content partners at Faithwire.

Reprinted with permission from . Copyright © 2025 The Christian Broadcasting Network Inc. All rights reserved.