God and Donald Trump will explore:

- How family and childhood influences shaped Trump's character and worldview
- How openness to evangelical leaders helped build his commitment to religious liberty
- How his election as president was predicted years before by charismatic prophets
- How he captured the largest evangelical vote in history and won the Electoral College
- What he really believes and how those beliefs helped shape his campaign promises

God and Donald Trump is a powerful first-person account of one of the most contentious elections in American history, with exclusive interviews and insightful commentary from the men and women who were there.

Stephen E. Strang is an award-winning journalist and successful businessman. After interviewing Trump, he became involved with other Christian leaders who campaigned for Trump's election. Strang, the CEO of Charisma Media and founder of Charisma magazine, even attended the 2017 election-night victory party in New York because he believed the prophetic ministers who said he would win.

God and Donald Trump is published by Frontline, an imprint of Charisma House, which has published books that challenge, encourage, teach and equip Christians, including 13 New York Times best-sellers. {eo}
