

Guess Which Duggar Daughter is Having a Baby Now?

Tic-tac-toe, three in a row seems to be the motto of the Duggar family now that daughter Jessa has announced her pregnancy.

Three Duggar women—Jill Dillard, Anna Duggar and Jessa Seewald—were pregnant at the same time before Jill delivered her son earlier this month.

The Seewalds made their announcement yesterday, first through a People article and then in a special video that aired during 19 Kids and Counting.

Their announcement doesn't change the couple's desire to adopt, though.

"If God blesses us with biological kids of our own, it's not going to quench our desire to adopt," Jessa told People.

But for now, the two are focusing on building their own little family by preparing for the arrival of #BabySeewald.
