

Guess Who Franklin Graham Is Endorsing for President?

Franklin Graham said he would be watching and praying during the last of the Republican presidential debates of 2015. But who is he endorsing? Nobody, at least not yet.

"I'm not endorsing any specific candidates in next year's election, but I am strongly endorsing prayer—and I'm strongly urging Christians to get out and vote," Graham says.

"We need to elect candidates at all levels that most closely support biblical values and principles. This may be the most important election in our nation's history. America is headed in the wrong direction and only God can turn it around."

Graham is traveling to all 50 states in 2016, from capital to capital, to hold prayer rallies for our country. His Decision America tour starts in Des Moines, Iowa on Jan. 5.
