

Gunmen Kill Six in House of Prayer

Attackers with guns fixed with silencers killed six people after storming a prayer house in the Afghan capital Kabul on Saturday evening, according to a government statement.

Several men attacked the religious building in the western part of the capital during evening prayers, said a statement released by the Ministry of Interior.

Five people were wounded. The gunmen escaped the scene, and police arrested five suspects on Saturday evening in connection with attack.

© 2015 Thomson Reuters. All rights reserved.