

Hear What Lady Gaga Said About God Just Before Her Superbowl Performance

Lady Gaga's performance at Super Bowl LI is getting a lot of attention—but what she said to her team just before her halftime show is pretty powerful.

In an exclusive interview with Entertainment Tonight, the pop star told a reporter about the pep talk she gave her dancers.

"I told them their talent did not belong to them," said Lady Gaga.

"God is the owner of their talent," she continued. "And today was about sharing His wisdom with the world."

Watch the video to see more.

{eo}

Reprinted with permission from . Copyright The Christian Broadcasting Network, Inc., All rights reserved.