

Jenny Weaver's Prophetic Warning to the Church

What message is the Lord speaking to the body of Christ today?

In a recent livestream on Facebook, Jenny Weaver gave a prophetic warning to the church regarding distractions and why it is so imperative that we stay alert and focused on Christ during this hour.

"This is a warning," says Weaver. "The warning is to the people of I want to say to you guys is this: the devil is putting in front of many people distractions. And the distractions are to pull you away from the presence of the Almighty God."

Weaver says the distractions that Satan is trying to plant into our lives are to take us away from the assignments that the Lord has divinely given each of His children to complete.

"Watch out. Be careful," Weaver says. "Not to slip-and-slide back into a muddy, dirty, filthy place. Be mindful not to go back to the vomit. Satan and his minions are surrounding a pile of vomit, and are trying to pull people back to old ways, old methods of responding."

Weaver notes that right now, all of God's people are in a time of testing, and we can either come out of the test being more like Christ or like our old, sinful ways.

"Stay focused. Don't allow anyone or anything to get you out of the spirit into the flesh," she continues. "Be careful not to come out of the secret place for anything or anyone."

Weaver also encourages believers to be a vessel of peace.

“There’s no clapping back in this season. You don’t get a clap back. Reserve that for the Lord,” says Weaver. “Go want to know the heart of a person whether or not they’re in the will of God? If they have fruit of Christ. Does the fruit look like Christ fruit?”

With so many thoughts, ideas, media, activities and chores buzzing about in our daily lives, we must take a spiritual inventory to see if we are seeking after the Holy Spirit each and every day, or if we are falling into the traps of the world around us. The enemy is prowling around like a roaring lion, wanting to devour us, but if we stay rooted in Christ, He will be our rearguard and shield no matter what comes.
