

Jonathan Cahn to Speak at Sold-Out Prophecy Summit

The Prophecy Summit has been sold out for weeks but has recently announced a new option for the hundreds who weren't able to get tickets.

The conference, scheduled for Friday through Sunday in Colorado Springs, Colo., will live-stream online. The event is being held at the Marriott Hotel auditorium, which only holds about 1,100 people.

The high demand for the Prophecy Summit is likely its impressive lineup of guest speakers, which includes best-selling author Jonathan Chan, WND founder and CEO Joseph Farah, L.A. Marsulli, Stan Monteith, Gary Stearman, Tom Horn and more.

Cahn, whose book, The Harbinger—the best-selling Christian book of 2012—will cover what's going on now in the world. His book and the DVD documentary based on it suggest America should beware of the choices it is making. The conference will also include subjects that have happened in the past.

Prophecy in the News has posted an online sign-up for those who want to participate in the summit through the live stream. For $50, those who are interested will have access to all of the presentations for 30 days.

"It's the next best thing to being there in person and a whole lot more cost effective," sponsors say.