

Joni Lamb and Perry Stone: The Truth Behind the 2024 Election

In a recent interview on Daystar, Joni Lamb and Perry Stone discussed the critical issues facing us with the 2024 election, and what we as Americans and Christians need to know before voting day.

One of the most striking things that Lamb and Stone discussed is Stone's own prediction from 2021 that Kamala Harris could replace Joe Biden, paralleling a 1933 prophecy by William Branham that predicted a woman would be in a high position of power, perhaps even as president.

"It was written in 2021, and my office came to me and said, 'Do you know you have a prediction about Harris replacing Biden?'" Stone recounts.

Not only is there potential for Harris to ascend to this place of power, but the dark agenda she champions surrounding abortion is much worse than most people realize. Doctors from Planned Parenthood have previously been caught on film negotiating prices for aborted babies' body parts.

"Kamala Harris was the attorney general in the state of California, and instead of prosecuting the people who were doing this illegally, she prosecuted the people that uncovered it," Lamb says.

"God said He hates those who shed innocent blood," Stone says. "This is very, very serious with the Lord."

Lamb further unveiled how there are 10 states which are looking at amendments to their laws which would allow not only for full-term abortions, but also for "transgender surgeries, hormone treatments and puberty blockers to minors without parent consent."

It is issues like these that many people may be completely unaware of, however, they need to understand that their vote matters or else these items may pass, allowing for the murder and mutilation of an entire generation. This means it is incredibly imperative for the Christian community to get out and vote. If Trump is re-elected, the timing of this re-election could also be prophetic in nature.

"I kept asking [God] why didn't Donald Trump win. I said, 'What was the issue?' And the Lord really took me back to the Book of Daniel," says Stone.

Stone recounts how the Lord showed him the parallels between Donald Trump and King Nebuchadnezzar; both had built towers, had the greatest army in the world and created massive empires. Just as Nebuchadnezzar was removed from his position and then repented and was later restored, so too does Trump have the same chance for repentance and restoration.

Tomorrow night we should find out who will assume the position as the President of the United States in January. With time getting short, Christians who have not yet voted need to make sure to do so, and to pray and seek God's face for the rebuilding of our nation.
