

King Trump? Israeli Religious Leaders Look to Trump for World Peace

As the Trump administration continues to make major changes that are impacting the world, his establishing of a Faith Office has brought about worldwide attention, especially from religious leaders. In a letter from the Nascent Sanhedrin in Jerusalem, the Jewish religious leaders blessed the president for his actions, and invited him to come to Israel, hoping he could bring about peace for the world.

Dear Honorable President Donald Trump,

May Hashem, the Creator, bless you and your nation!

We extend our heartfelt gratitude for bringing faith to the forefront of American and global culture through the establishment of the Faith Office in the White House. Your recognition of the importance of religion in public life is a step toward restoring moral values and spiritual leadership in the world.

The letter further explains moral laws from a Jewish standpoint, and explains the importance of the First Commandment and the purpose of good business ethics. However, the letter then gets into something that just may connect directly to biblical prophecy. The letter includes an image of a "Cyrus-Trump" coin from 2017 that says "Cyrus-Balfour-Trump Declaration 1917-2017 Temple Coin."

In 2017, the Nascent Sanhedrin minted a special coin featuring your image on one side and Cyrus the Great on the other. This symbolized your historic role, likened to that of Cyrus, who was chosen by Hashem to fulfill a divine mission.

Trump has been compared to many Bible figures, including Cyrus, Nehemiah and Jehu. Now that he has also referred to himself as “the king,” could he truly be turning more and more into this image? The letter also notes that China loved the coins so much they too sold these coins. However, perhaps the most striking part about this is that the Sanhedrin is asking Trump to create an “International Divine Court.”

We invite you to meet with the Sanhedrin Court Rabbis in Jerusalem to discuss the establishment of an International Divine Court for all nations. This court would be based on the seven universal commandments given to Noah and reaffirmed at Mount Sinai—a foundation for global peace and divine justice.

Not only would the president’s meeting with Jewish leaders in Israel be historic, but what if he really were to create this type of “International Divine Court” to try to bring about world peace, it almost sounds exactly like the fulfillment of biblical prophecy in the end times. Global world peace and religion is not something we’ve ever seen, but could Trump be the one to set this in action?

Only time will tell what his role is in the end times. For now, let’s pray, use discernment about our times and keep our eyes focused on Jesus.
