

Lance Wallnau Broadcasts Being 'Drunk in the Spirit' as the Glory of God Hits

Business entrepreneur Lance Wallnau broadcast a Facebook live video today in which he was still “drunk in the Spirit” after a powerful encounter with the Holy Spirit.

The popular charismatic phrase comes from Ephesians 5:18, which states: “Do not be drunk with wine, for that is reckless living. But be filled with the Spirit.”

Wallnau, visibly overcome by the presence of God, shared what is happening as he travels through Asia.

“Wow, we just had the wildest meeting here in Thailand. Hallelujah. Tell you what, I was totally sober when this thing started,” Wallnau says.

“We just had an altar call, and I just, the glory of God hit, and it’s been flowing,” Wallnau continues.

But the Holy Spirit’s touch doesn’t stop with Wallnau. Instead, he passes it along to viewers.

Watch the video and experience it for yourself.

{eoa}