

Mario Murillo's 2025 Prophetic Word: A Call for Bold Christian Action

As the political and spiritual battle for America intensifies, evangelist Mario Murillo's 2025 prophetic word serves as both a warning and a rallying cry for Christians. There are many who view Donald Trump's reelection as a reprieve from the Lord, Murillo's insights remind us that God's hand is moving powerfully—but He is also calling His people to stand boldly against the darkness encroaching on our nation.

Murillo's prophecy begins with a clear declaration: "We are entering the year of decision." He explains that the stakes have never been higher. "America stands at a crossroads. The church must rise and become the voice of righteousness that God intended." With Trump's landslide victory in 2024, many believers see a clear sign that God is giving our nation a second chance to fulfill its destiny. But this is no time for complacency.

5 Critical Points From Murillo's Prophetic Word

Murillo's prophetic message outlines five key areas where Christians must engage in the spiritual and cultural battle:

1. Expose and resist evil. "We can no longer remain silent about the evil being unleashed by the Left,” Murillo declares. He specifically calls out the radical agenda of sexual immorality, abortion and attacks on religious liberty. Scripture reminds us, “Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather expose them” (Eph. 5:11, NKJV). Christians must stand unapologetically for truth, even when it’s uncomfortable.

2. Prepare for spiritual warfare. According to Murillo, the church must embrace its role in spiritual warfare. “The battle is not just political; it is deeply spiritual. Satan’s agenda is to destroy the family, the church and the nation.” As Paul writes, “For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds” (2 Cor. 10:4, MEV). The time for passive Christianity is over.
3. A revival of bold preaching. Murillo issues a call for pastors to return to bold, biblical preaching. “We need men and women in the pulpit who will preach the Word without compromise. The days of seeker-friendly sermons must end.” He emphasizes the need for messages that convict hearts and inspire action, echoing the words of Isaiah: “Cry aloud, do not hold back; lift up your voice like a trumpet” (Isa. 58:1a).
4. Mobilize the church for action. Murillo stresses that this is not the time for Christians to retreat. “Every believer has a role to play, whether in prayer, activism or evangelism. This is our moment to take territory for the kingdom of God.” He urges Christians to support candidates and policies that align with biblical values, reminding us that faith without works is dead (James 2:26).
5. Expect Miracles and Breakthroughs: Murillo concludes his prophecy with a word of encouragement: “God is not done with America. We will see miracles, signs and wonders like never before.” He points to Joel 2:28–29: “It will be that afterwards, I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh ... your sons and your daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, and your young men will see visions." God's power will be evident to all who stand firm in faith.

Standing Boldly Against Today's Evil

Murillo's prophetic word highlights the urgency of our time. The Left's relentless push for moral relativism, gender confusion and outright hostility toward Christianity is not just a political agenda—it's a spiritual attack. As Murillo says, "The church must decide if it will bow to the culture or stand for truth."

The Bible calls us to be salt and light in the world (Matt. 5:13-16). We cannot afford to stay silent while darkness advances. This means speaking out against policies and ideologies that harm our nation and contradict God's Word. It also means discipling the next generation to carry the torch of faith and freedom.

Murillo's prophetic word is both a challenge and a promise for the church in 2025. If we rise to the occasion, we can see America restored to its God-ordained purpose. But this requires action—prayer, fasting, evangelism and an unwavering commitment to biblical truth.

As Trump's reelection has shown, God is giving us a window of opportunity. Let's not squander it. Instead, let us heed the words of Joshua: "Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go" (Josh. 1:9). There is no better time to act than now.
