

Marriage Restored: Lysa TerKeurst Shares Stunning Photos of Recommitting to Her Husband

Nearly 18 months after announcing the end of her marriage, Proverbs 31's Lysa TerKeurst shared gorgeous images celebrating her restored relationship with husband, Art.

In June 2017, TerKeurst announced her marriage was over after her husband had been unfaithful. The Proverbs 31 ministry leader, author and speaker was later diagnosed with breast cancer.

But our God is one of miracles.

Last week, TerKeurst posted to social media about recommitting to her husband.

I still cry over what was. I still find myself wishing the hurt wasn't part of our story. But God has whispered deep into my soul, "I haven't 'cursed' you with this. I've 'entrusted' you with this." Oh God, may we be found fiercely faithful. We will go to those on the brutal battlefield of heartbreak and speak Truth. Show redemption. And call forth life from dead bones in the name of Jesus. Then at the end of each day, we will seal our commitment with a kiss of togetherness. For we can't change what was. But we sure can lavishly love, honor, and appreciate the breathtaking reality of what is.
