Has Gaza Accidentally Exposed a Nephilim Presence?

The people of Gaza may have just made a dire mistake.

In an exclusive interview with Charisma Media, L.A. Marzulli discussed how the people of Gaza may have just revealed that there are Nephilim in their midst.

Sharing a photo with Charisma Media of a banner in Gaza used by Hamas, Marzulli details how this image depicts a six-fingered fist in the air with the words "We're the flood...the war's next day." This strange sign, however, just may have even more to it than meets the eye.

Prophetic Alert: Super Bowl's Secret Witchcraft Exposed

While the Lord Almighty was praised during the Super Bowl, there unfortunately were other dark and dangerous spiritual forces at work that day.

In a stunning prophetic update, Tomi Arayomi raised alarms over a spiritual battle that took place during this year's Super Bowl, claiming that witchcraft—specifically voodoo—was being used against star quarterback Patrick Mahomes. The message, which has since gained significant attention, asserts that the war against God's people is not only inside the church walls but extends into sports, entertainment, business and government.

According to Arayomi, while millions watched the game, a witch was seen performing a voodoo ritual in the stands, allegedly targeting Mahomes, a known follower of Jesus Christ. This act is likened to the biblical account of Balaam, who was hired to curse Israel but ultimately failed because God's people were blessed and could not be cursed (Num. 22-24). He warns that the same demonic strategies are at play today, operating through culture, deception and spiritual warfare.

Is Kim Clement's 'Death to Debt' Prophecy Coming True Under Trump and Musk?

Nearly a decade ago, on Sept. 5, 2015, Kim Clement delivered a powerful prophecy that spoke directly to the burden of debt. Today, as President Donald Trump, Elon Musk and the Department of Government Efficiency focus on cutting wasteful spending and rooting out fraud within government agencies, many are asking: Was this prophecy meant for the United States, her people and her government?

Clement's words were clear and stirring: "God says today you have the power to break the power of debt, for there shall surely be a death to debt, says the Lord." As the U.S. faces mounting fiscal challenges, the relevance of this message seems undeniable. Clement spoke of a time reminiscent of the days of Moses, when the Israelites "didn't have to get new shoes or new clothes" because they "were in a state of renewal where they had no need whatsoever."

Could this be a vision for America's future?
