Just Released 'The Chosen' Season Three Trailer Goes Viral on Social Media

For you "The Chosen" fans out there, the long-awaited Season Three trailer has officially been released and this season looks like it will be just as much of a tear jerker as the rest. Over 1.4 million people have watched the video, and the trailer was the No.1 trending video on YouTube when it was released on Monday.

The hit show based on the life of Jesus will hit theaters across America with episodes one and two on Nov. 18th. Creator of "The Chosen" Dallas Jenkins says the theme for this season is out of Matthew 11:28 which says, "Come to Me, all you who labor and are heavily burdened, and I will give you rest."

Fans of the faith-based show have been eagerly awaiting the next season and the filmmaker says this season hasn't been easy. "It's taken a long time for Season Three to get here, and believe me, it wasn't by choice. From supply chain issues affecting our construction, to COVID delays, to weather, the making of Season Three for sure made us weary and heavy-laden. We don't get to escape the themes of each season," Jenkins says.

What Do Pastors Think About Halloween? Study Reveals Surprising Results

It's a question that believers grapple with every year at this time. Should Christians avoid Halloween?

Some believers simply don't feel that it carries any spiritual implications, while others see it as a dangerous event to celebrate, especially for Christians.

But what do pastors think about Halloween and how members of their congregations should handle it? The results may be surprising.

Mario Murillo: 'I Feel a Calm Sense of Hope Amid Their Tyranny'

It is easy to lose hope when you see these villains escape prosecution, meanwhile noble men and women are unjustly ruined. It is easy to forget that when this happens it is because God Himself wants to deal with their wickedness.

Fauci is guilty of perhaps the greatest scandal in American history. Obama callously dictates policies that are taking away freedoms because he hates America. Biden is a lawless puppet who will do and say anything to appease his masters.
