'Once-in-a-Decade' Bomb Cyclone Just Hit the US

The "bomb cyclone" that is hitting the Northwest is going to be even worse than the experts originally thought. It is being projected that this rapidly intensifying "bomb cyclone" will stall near the West Coast, and that means that some areas of California, Oregon and Washington could get pounded by very high winds and relentless rain for days. In fact, the "Washington Post" is reporting that some areas of California could actually get 20 inches of rain. That much rainfall in such a short period of time would likely cause extremely destructive flooding. In the mountains, there will be blizzard conditions in some areas and the amount of snowfall will be measured in feet.

This is truly an extremely rare storm. Yesterday, I explained that experts were warning that the central pressure of this storm would fall so fast that it would double the criteria for a bomb cyclone.

But now we are being told that this storm could actually become a "triple-bomb."

Laken Riley's Stepfather Reads Heartbreaking Letter to Her Future Husband

Another chapter is winding down in the tragic story of 22-year-old nursing student Laken Riley's murder.

On Wednesday, Nov. 20, her murderer, illegal immigrant Jose Ibarra, 26, was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole.

Ibarra “was convicted on three counts of felony murder and counts of malice murder, kidnapping with bodily injury, aggravated assault with intent to rape and ‘peeping Tom’” according to NBC News.

Has NATO Gone to War With Russia?

Now Joe Biden has really done it.

By giving the green light to long-range missile strikes deep inside of Russian territory, he has brought us closer to nuclear conflict than ever before. As you will see below, Russian officials have become convinced that “NATO has gone to war with Russia.” I feel like I am watching a slow-motion train wreck that I am powerless to stop. I have been warning about this for so many years, and now it is here. Steve Quayle, Henry Gruver, Dumitru Duduman, Marty Breeden and so many others have also warned America about what is coming. If we stay on the path that we are on, nuclear weapons will be used. Do we really want to go down that road?

The corporate media here in the United States is trying really hard to convince us that Joe Biden’s decision wasn’t really a big deal.
