

Morning Rundown: Once Tormented by Demons, God Intervened in 'I Love Lucy' Star's Life

Here's a quick summary of the top stories on :

Once Tormented by Demons, God Intervened in 'I Love Lucy' Star's Life

"I Love Lucy" has been called the greatest show in television history, and red-headed firebrand Lucille Ball who starred in the title role paved the way for today's comediennes. But the actor who played "Little Ricky" on the program remembers the show a bit differently.

At one point, Keith Thibodeaux even blamed "I Love Lucy" for tearing his family apart and ruining his life. But in the end, God redeemed him from all of the pain.

"I was about four and a half years old at the time and my dad said, 'Keith this is really important. This is a really big show in Hollywood.' I knew from my father's explanation of it that it was something big."

Actor Richard Dreyfuss' Disgust for Cultural Capitulation

There is a massive difference between cultural capitulation and cultural sensitivity. We should resist the former and practice the latter.

What do I mean by cultural capitulation? I mean bowing down to the latest cultural fad, of kowtowing to the most current manifestation of what is PC, of becoming slaves to whatever the societal elites decide is acceptable.

A current example would be the cultural mandate that requires us to give our preferred gender pronouns or to deny biological realities when talking with a trans-identified person. We rightly say no to that mandate for many reasons. (For a listing of relevant articles, go here.)

Mike Signorelli's Prophetic Warning: The Separation of Vultures and Eagles

The lead pastor and founder of V1 Church in New York City, Mike Signorelli was recently given a pair of prophetic visions from God, the first of which he says is very important for Christians to keep in the forefront of their minds in the coming season.

He also said this powerful prophetic vision has been confirmed by two other prophets within the body of Christ, including Alex Pagani.

In this vision, Signorelli says he saw a separation between eagles and vultures in the kingdom. {eoa}