The Old Wooden Cross Still Stands Amid Helene's Devastation

The damages from Hurricane Helene have left many families and communities broken. Many people are still searching for loved ones and have no place to call home. But there are stories of hope and heroism emerging that not only reflect the resiliency of the survivors but reveal God's faithfulness and that He is "here for His people."

One encouraging story is about a well-known landmark in Greenville, South Carolina.

The Category 4 storm severely damaged the beloved Pretty Place Chapel.

Prophecy, Yom Kippur and Atonement: 'A Divine Urgency'

While we are in the middle of the Jewish High Holy Days and the anniversary of Oct. 7, now is the moment for us to reflect on God's glory, His holiness, with all genuine repentance.

During a prophetic vision, Charlie Shamp was given a word from the Lord concerning the Day of Atonement, and how we should navigate this season.

Jamie Buckingham: Face Your Fears, Find Your Purpose

In March 1975 I received an impassioned plea from an ad hoc committee of missionaries in South Vietnam. The letter was written and signed by a Christian and Missional Alliance missionary who represented a large number of missionaries from many denominations.

It said, essentially

The communists have started their final push, and it is no obvious we are going to have to leave. The sad part is, all we've worked for and accomplished so far will be destroyed when we pull out. The communists will burn the Bibles we leave behind; they will turn the church building into communist meeting halls; they will take over our hospitals; they will disband the churches and kill the pastors. There is nothing we can leave behind which will have a lasting effect.
