The Pope Personally Defrocks Pro-Life, MAGA Priest

In a move that stunned conservative Catholics across the world, Fr. Frank Pavone has officially been defrocked by the Catholic church.

As reported by Catholic News Agency, a letter was sent out on Dec. 13 to all bishops in the United States. This letter came directly from Papal Nuncio Fr. Christophe Pierre, the Pope's personal representative in America, and detailed the reasons Pavone was laicized.

Pavone is accused of "blasphemous communications on social media" and "persistent disobedience of the lawful instructions of his diocesan bishop," but the letter does not elaborate on what the examples used were.

Are You Prepared for this Test in 2023?

Prepare your hearts for 2023, because God is refining the body of Christ to a new level. Two Libraries 'Cave' to Allow Kirk Cameron to Promote Christian Children's Book

Actor and writer Kirk Cameron, who has been denied access to nearly 50 of what he calls "woke" libraries for promoting his new Christian children's book, told media over the weekend that he has "won" against two of the libraries and will hold story hours there in the near future.

The public libraries—both of which held "drag queen story hours" in their facilities this past June, as well as other programs that promote and celebrate diversity of thought and belief—now are in communication with his publisher about the bookings for his story hour program for kids, he said.

"They caved," Cameron, the author of the book "As You Grown," told Fox News Digital. {eo}
