

National Prayer Day Against Pornography Calls Intercessors to Action

On Dec. 10, thousands of supporters will join together in a National Day of Prayer to strengthen the fight against pornography. Some of the groups allied with Morality in Media participating in this effort include Alliance Defending Freedom, American Family Association, Family Research Council, Concerned Women for America, Movieguide and many more.

“The war on pornography can only be won with the blessing of almighty God, and we humbly join together to seek that blessing,” says Patrick Trueman, president of Morality in Media. “This day is set aside to help those who are struggling with pornography addictions as well as their families, and to inspire and encourage those involved in this fight.”

Pornography is inherently dehumanizing, sexually exploitative and an affront to God. Not only does it lead to addiction and the breakdown of families, but porn is also strongly tied to violence against women, sex trafficking and child abuse.

Suggested prayer requests can be found at . People of all religious backgrounds are encouraged to participate.