

Netanyahu Demands Complete Destruction of Iran's Nuclear Program

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu doubled down Apr. 27, on demands for the complete dismantling of Iran's nuclear infrastructure. His comments came as the United States and Iran continue indirect negotiations aimed at securing a new nuclear agreement.

The U.S. and Iran have participated in three rounds of talks mediated by Oman, seeking a deal that would block Tehran's path to nuclear weapons while lifting economic sanctions. Oman's leadership stated the goal is a "completely nuclear weapons-free" Iran, while allowing peaceful energy development.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

Netanyahu warned that the only acceptable agreement must mirror Libya's 2003 deal, which eliminated its nuclear, chemical, biological, and missile programs. Israeli officials maintain that any compromise leaving Iran's infrastructure intact would pose a grave threat to Israel's security.

//

Despite President Donald Trump's caution against unilateral Israeli action at this stage, Netanyahu made clear that Israel retains the right to act independently if necessary. Israeli sources told Reuters that military options remain under active consideration.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Netanyahu emphasized that ballistic missile development must also be halted under any new agreement, noting that Iran views its missile program as a key sticking point in negotiations. Iran attacked Israel with drones, missiles, and cruise missiles in April and October 2024 following Israeli strikes on Iranian generals and proxy leaders.

Speaking at a conference in Jerusalem, Netanyahu reaffirmed direct communications with President Trump and underscored that Israel would prevent Iran from obtaining nuclear weapons, regardless of diplomatic outcomes.

This article originally appeared on American Faith, and is reposted with permission.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!