

New ISIS Video Vows a Repeat of 9/11 Terror in America

ISIS says it will repeat the deadly Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, releasing a new video called "We Are Back in America."

The radical Muslims say they will use "cars full of explosives and suicide bombers."

The video quotes Osama bin Laden, the mastermind behind 9/11, saying, "Every Muslim, from the moment they realize the distinction in their hearts, hates Americans, hates Jews and hates Christians."

It also shows photos of the destroyed World Trade Center and footage of ISIS beheadings.

The 10 minute video did not reveal any specific terror plots or timelines, but issued violent threats to the United States.

It also quotes bin Laden talking about declaring jihad against the U.S. government because of what he called "its criminal actions."
