

One Day Away! 'The Return: National and Global Day of Prayer and Repentance' to Take Place on the National Mall

Leaders and believers across the nation will come together this Saturday, Sept. 26, in Washington D.C. for "The Return: National and Global Day of Prayer and Repentance," a biblical sacred and solemn assembly to call for national restoration and revival. Initiated by Jonathan Cahn and Kevin Jessip, "The Return" will unite people to participate in this global movement within the church to humble themselves, repent and lift each other in prayer for God to forgive our sins, heal our land and for the return of America toward God.

Believers, buses and churches will come from all over America to the National Mall to be part of it. But "The Return" will not be limited to those who come. All believers throughout the nation can take part in this sacred biblical assembly and prophetic event. "The Return" will be simulcast on a multitude of television stations and streamed over the web, so anyone can take part in their churches, their communities, their cities and in their homes.

Beyond that, "The Return" is an international and global event. Believers from all over the world will be taking part by simulcast and streaming as they hold their own version of "The Return" in countries in Europe, Asia, Latin America, Africa and more.
