

Pastors Provoke Shock, Tears in Local Grocery Store

You've heard of people who pay for the guy behind them in the drive-thru? This is taking it to the next level.

Rob Westerman's Cincinnati-area church is showing love in a practical way, and in one that people are sure to remember.

"The small percentage of people who see this video and go out and do the same thing, man, we could change this world," Westerman says.

How so? Two words: Free groceries.

Watch the video to see more.