

Philippine Coast Guard Honors Christ in Holy Week Celebrations

(Reuters/Romeo Ranoco)

A member of the Philippine Coast Guard (PCG) carries a cross to mark the Passion, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ during the Stations of the Cross procession at the PCG compound in Manila on Wednesday. The Stations of the Cross is part of Holy Week celebrations which are observed throughout the Philippines, a predominantly Catholic country.