It's clear big cities throughout the country have become more and more devoid of any godly morals. In Los Angeles, a group of spectators blocked a street to do 'donuts' with their cars and it turned into a flash mob that reportedly looted a nearby 7-Eleven and intimidated employees.

People are fleeing urban areas like Los Angeles, Chicago and New York City because of the uptick in crime and this is just the latest example of lawlessness rampant nationwide.

In the video you see phones out and recording as the looters joyously walk through the aisles grabbing snacks and drinks while hurling items at employees. The looters hop the counter and steal what looks like hundreds of tobacco products on the back shelf.

The Los Angeles Police Department says the burglars ransacked the store before police could arrive. Now the department is looking to identify and arrest everyone involved.

It's no surprise this is happening as Christian values are being taken out of schools and homes across America. Following San Francisco, Los Angeles is ranked second in the country for outbound moves, according to a report from Redfin.

When talking about the signs of the times and the end of the age, Matthew 24:12 (NKJV) says, “And because lawlessness will abound, the love of many will grow cold.” Is the uptick in crime we are seeing in these urban centers a prophetic marker of what the world can expect before the Second Coming of Jesus Christ?

Earlier in chapter 24 the Bible urges believers to be aware of deceit and remain aligned with the Word of God or we could fall prey to the ways of the world.

The gospel of the kingdom will go forth to the ends of the earth and now is the time for Christians worldwide to stand firm in their faith to fight off deceptive agendas. {eoa}
