

Robert Wolgemuth, Best-Selling Christian Author and Husband of Nancy DeMoss, Dies at 77

On Saturday, Jan. 10, 2026 the Revive Our Hearts community announced the passing of Robert Wolgemuth, who “departed from his earthly body and this broken world and entered into the glory of eternity with Christ.”

At seventy-seven years old, Robert’s home-going concluded a life marked by deep faith, unwavering integrity and a passion to see others know and love the Savior. Known affectionately by many simply as Bob, Robert’s final days were spent surrounded by prayer, love, and the companionship of his wife, Nancy DeMoss Wolgemuth, founder and lead Bible teacher of Revive Our Hearts. After a brief battle dealing with complications from pneumonia, he was peacefully ushered into eternity, confident in the promise that “those who die in the Lord will live again.”

On Facebook, Revive Our Hearts ministry wrote:

Over the last few days, several close friends and family members have kept vigil with me around Robert’s bed, singing hymns, praying, waiting, weeping . . . and worshiping. His children and grandchildren (who we were able to spend time with less than a month ago) said good-bye through FaceTime.

Last night, one of Robert’s brothers and his wife spent the night with me in the hospital room. Robert’s breathing had been slowing down, with longer pauses between each one.

Just before 5:00 this morning, I was prompted to play a beautiful song called “Come to Jesus.” The last stanza says:

And with your final heartbeat, kiss the world goodbye

Then go in peace, and laugh on Glory's side.

And fly to Jesus, fly to Jesus

Fly to Jesus and live.

On the phrase, "with your final heartbeat," Robert took a gasping breath. We watched intently, waiting to see if he would take another one. It was to be his last.

At the end of the chorus, Robert's brother said softly, with wonder and awe: "He just flew to Jesus!"

It was a sacred, glorious moment. An incredible gift from the Lord.
