

Spirit-Filled Attorney: 'Roe' May Be Dead, But Jezebel Is Still Alive and Well

Note: With last week's Supreme Court decision, the battle has intensified in Congress and the states. The abortion terrorists are threatening Liberty Counsel and other pro-life organizations. Ruth Sent Us published the home addresses of six Supreme Court justices. Jane's Revenge, a coalition of abortion groups, has firebombed and damaged pro-life centers. On June 15, this coalition published its manifesto stating that the attacks will increase and that they "find joy" in such destruction.

Meanwhile, Joe Biden is preparing his own kind of assault on the High Court, as the White House and pro-abortion members of Congress plot to thwart the Dobbs abortion ruling. But this demonic thirst for the blood of children is nothing new. We read about it throughout history and in the Old Testament.

The biblical character Jezebel is perhaps the most infamous worshipper of the false deity Baal and other pagan gods. Two hallmarks of Baal worship were sexual deviancy and the bloody sacrifice of children to quench the false god's thirst for the blood of innocents.

Paganism from Phoenicia spread through the Middle East because of that nation's widespread trade, and this eventually caused the downfall of Israel's northern and southern kingdoms.

Then-senior medical director of Planned Parenthood Dr. Deborah Nucatola bragged about her skill in removing baby body parts. After pulling the baby out breech while the head is still inside the womb, being "cognizant of where you put your graspers, you try to intentionally go above and below the thorax." And "we've been very good at getting heart, lung, liver ... [to] get it all intact.” Then “you can evacuate an intact calvarium at the end ... And, we’ve been pretty successful with that, I’d say.”

There is no practical difference between pagan child sacrifice and modern-day abortion. The thirst for innocent infant blood continues. There is nothing new under the sun. And when this ongoing child sacrifice is threatened, the abortion terrorists turn their rage on those of us who stand for life. But we will not be intimidated.

Each lengthy post of Jane’s Revenge further reveals the demented and demonic spirit driving this coalition of abortion groups. A “Night of Rage” is planned the evening the Supreme Court issues the Dobbs decision, in which they plan to “unleash hell” and say, “anything goes.”

“We need to express this madness fully and with ferocity. We need to quit containing ourselves. We need them to be afraid of us,” the twisted group exclaims (emphasis added).

This terror coalition claims responsibility for more than a dozen recent attacks on churches and pro-life organizations, including firebombings.

“Whatever form your fury takes, the first step is feeling it,” the group advises new terror recruits. “The next step is carrying that anger out into the world and expressing it physically.”

And Jane’s Revenge warns, “If abortion isn’t safe, you aren’t either. We are everywhere.”

In another “communique,” the group warned pro-life organizations to close immediately or face consequences. “But until you do,” they wrote, “it’s open season, and we know where your operations are. The infrastructure of the enslavers will not survive. We will never stop, back down, slow down, or retreat.”

We have undertaken many additional security measures. We will not be bullied. In addition to our work in the courts, we are working on Capitol Hill and in the states to protect life. This is a historic moment.

We will not be intimidated by these modern-day Jezebels and Baal worshippers, and we will never abandon the unborn to the blades and “graspers” of abortionists.

Liberty Counsel filed a powerful amicus brief in the Dobbs abortion case on behalf of 70,000 African American and Hispanic churches detailing the eugenic history of abortion. Our brief is cited in the Supreme Court’s leaked draft opinion. After Dobbs is released, our work defending life will increase.

Some members of Congress and Joe Biden are preparing legislation and executive orders right now to force abortion on the states. {eo}
