

These End-Time Indicators Are Too Precise to Ignore

In his latest End of Days Update, Joseph Morris delivers another jam-packed prophetic overview, connecting global headlines to biblical end-time events with clarity and urgency.

From China outlawing missionary work to Netanyahu threatening Iran over its nuclear ambitions, Morris sees a clear pattern: “Things are getting accelerated,” he says, “literally pushing the issue to bring the Antichrist on the scene.” He highlights military build-ups in the Middle East, including the largest-ever U.S. deployment of B-2 bombers to Diego Garcia, as potential precursors to Ezekiel 38-style conflict.

But this isn't doom and gloom—it's a wake-up call with hope.

“For the church, there is no bad news,” Morris insists. “It's not escape theology, it's hustle theology.” He walks viewers through a series of fulfilled biblical prophecies—Israel's rebirth, Hebrew revival, red heifers, predatory birds in the land—and celestial signals, like the return of the Bethlehem star.
