So many have asked for an update on my wife Aimee. Forgive me for not knowing all the right medical stuff. In her procedure they were able to put in 2 coils which will keep the aneurysm from bleeding and possibly rupturing. Her head is hurting really bad. She'll be kept for many days to be tested and monitored. Thankful for many friends, family, and prayers! This is a pic w her mama @GeGe hunt @macandaimee #pray4aimee
