Movieguide® Warns Parents Over Barbie Movie

The new Barbie movie seems to have forgotten its core audience of families and children, instead catering to nostalgic adults and pushing LGBTQ character stories. This departure from its traditional focus on young viewers is alarming for Christian parents who seek to instill biblical values in their children.

Not only does the movie fail to appeal to its built-in market of little girls and families, but it also receives criticism for being poorly made with multiple premises, disappointing even the most dedicated fans.

The movie's executives missed a crucial step in defining their target audience and neglected the millions of families who would have eagerly attended theaters and purchased tickets.

Pastor Greg Locke with Benny Hinn: God Putting Deliverance Ministry Front and Center

For too long, devils have been running rampant across America.

Without a body of Christ empowered by the Holy Spirit to cast them out, who else was there to stop them?

As the manifestation of demonic influence is claiming territory around the world, two titans of deliverance ministry have united in the cause of driving it back.

How is Noah Connected with the Nephilim and the End Times?

L.A. Marzulli, an internationally recognized specialist on the Nephilim, says believers today should pay special attention to Matthew 24, when Jesus warns us that these last days will be “like the days of Noah.

In essence, believers should be waiting for Jesus’ return with great anticipation.

“As were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. For as in the days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day Noah entered the ark, and did not know until the flood came and took them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of Man” (Matt. 24:37-39).

How is this connected to the Nephilim, whom he has studied for more than 30 years?

‘Sound of Freedom’ Star Caviezel Blasts Pope, Politicians, Apathetic Christians

While promoting President Donald Trump’s upcoming screening of the new hit movie “Sound of Freedom,” actor Jim Caviezel called out Pope Francis for staying silent about child sex trafficking.

“I’m begging you, Pope of the Roman Catholic Church. What are you doing? Why are you staying silent? Why won’t you speak out?” says Caviezel in an interview with Steve Bannon on “War Room,” one of the top political podcasts in America and a core program on the Real America Voice (RAV) platform. “Don’t you fear the Father in heaven? Don’t you fear the Holy Spirit? Are you a Rothschild Pope? Answer that.”

Caviezel, who plays real-life, pro-child rescuing hero Tim Ballard in the movie, also criticized weak politicians,

“emasculated men” and Christians who have done nothing to fight this scourge of sex with underaged kids. It’s a topic that Hollywood refuses to admit because of rampant pedophilia that left-wing extremists are trying to normalize in light of the moral breakdown in America. {eo}
