The Third Temple, referenced throughout the Bible, is seen as a pivotal part of end-time prophecy. Gonzalez emphasizes that while Christians don't need a physical temple for salvation, the preparation for the third temple signals the fulfillment of biblical prophecies. However, one of the most common misconceptions from Christians is that there will not be a physical third temple because the New Testament discusses the body of Christians as the temple of the Holy Spirit. However, as Gonzales points out, this is not how end time prophecy will play out.
