

VIDEO: Christians Serve in Wake of Hurricane Irene

It took more than a day for Hurricane Irene to pass over the Outer Banks of North Carolina. Inland flooding caused the greatest damage, yet Christians throughout the island are grateful for God's mercy and protection. Watch today's daily interest video to see how many islanders are sharing God's love in the wake of the storm.