

VIRAL: Man Attributes Miracle Survival to Psalm 54

Video of a man's miracle survival after being trapped underwater for three days has gone viral.

Harrison Okene, a Nigerian cook, is the lone survivor of a 12-member crew of an upended tugboat. He attributed his survival all to prayer.

Footage of his rescue, which happened more than six months ago, was just posted online this week.

During the time he was trapped, Okene found an air pocket in the boat and said he was praying to God the whole time, reciting Psalm 54, also called the prayer for deliverance.

That was the last psalm his wife had sent him via text message.

Okene said he believes his rescue after more than 60 hours at 100 feet underwater is a sign of divine deliverance.
