

Was 2nd Beheading Scare Really a 'Bizarre Coincidence'?

The same day a woman was beheaded at a Moore, Oklahoma, food processing plant, a second beheading scare occurred in Oklahoma City in what some are calling a "bizarre coincidence."

The Oklahoman newspaper reports Jacob Mugambi Muriithi, who had been fired from his nursing home job, was arrested after a female co-worker said he threatened to cut her head off "with a blade."

The 30-year-old Kenyan native reportedly told her he represented ISIS and referenced killing Christians.

"We take these threats very seriously," Oklahoma County District Attorney David Prater said.

Muriithi remains in a county jail with bail set at $1 million. As of now there is no link between this incident and the Thursday beheading in Moore.
